

Implementation Project Manager

LOCATION: Brussels - BELGIUM or Kiel / Mainz - GERMANY

In order to support its growth and the international expansion, MobileXpense is looking for talented young engineers to reinforce its Implementation team in Germany and Belgium.

Your Challenge

As part the MobileXpense implementation, you will be in charge of the international deployment of the MobileXpense solution across the customer's organization. You will manage the implementation process from the early feasibility phase (including Pre-Sales support) until the post implementation review and handover to the service management team.

In a first phase, you will assist a senior project manager and learn how to apply the MobileXpense deployment methodology, after which you will take on gradually more important and complex projects.

You co-ordinate the different phases of the deployment, collect and validate customer requirements, design and validate the proposed solution, plan resources (internal, customer's and third parties), ensure quality control, monitor progresses and report regularly to a project steering committee and take all the necessary initiatives to guarantee a qualitative, on time and budget project delivery.

In this role you are a key contributor to the success of MobileXpense expansion, based on long term customer's satisfaction.

Your Profile

Required skills

- Business analysis: Ability to understand and document complex business processes.
- Project management: Familiar with project management methodologies (Prince2, Agile, or other...), presentation skills
- Technical: At least a foundation level education in IT (database, SQL, web technologies), passive understanding of software programming (can read).

Experience

- Engineering Degree, Master in Computer Science with some additional management education (MBA or business oriented options) or Commercial Engineer with strong focus on IT.
- A first successful experience of project management (in a professional or associative area).

Personality

- Strong affinity with IT.
- No nonsense attitude, organized as well as result (detail) and service oriented.
- Self-motivated, enthusiastic, quick (self) learner not afraid to go into technical details and give a helping hand.
- A high-potential individual who understands that hands-on team work is the foundation of his/her own development within the company.

Language

- Fluent in German, French or Dutch and high level English.

Implementation Project Manager

Our Offer to You

We offer you:

- The opportunity to join a unique young and international team in a fast growing company.
- A team of open-minded, collaborative and awesome colleagues to work with.
- The opportunity to challenge our old ways and make your mark in the company.
- A modern work environment in Brussels, Kiel or Mainz with easy to access to public transport.
- A competitive salary package.
- + Free soft drinks and a weekly fruits basket to keep you healthy. Yummy!

About Us

MobileXpense is a Belgian, Brussels based, leading SAAS (Software As A Service) provider serving more than a thousand corporate customers including several Fortune 500 Companies, in more than 65 countries.

Our values are our reference framework to align ourselves on the way we work together. Our shared dream is to make of MobileXpense: “The European leading solution for effortless and effective expense management for large corporations as well as for SME’s.”

Each member of the MobileXpense team works to achieve this objective by applying our 5 values in his/her day-to-day job: Serve Pro-Actively - Think Responsibly - Innovate to Simplify - Measure Honestly - Act Effectively. Do you believe you could work by those values? Tell us how!

How to Apply?

Email jobs@mobilexpense.com with the subject: “Customer Service Consultant”. Please join your resume and explain to us why you see yourself as our next customer service consultant.

We will then take contact with you in the following days.